

Picture of Hvatum farm where Claude and Maassen was hidden

Here Claude and his friend Ralph Maassen were hidden in the forest on a ledge.

The cow-path where Claude was carried from the houses into the forest. My father worked with his horses on the earth on the left side of this path. The Germans came up to him and tried to ask him. He showed them another way.

This is an air photo of my home from about 1955.

The path where Claude dragged himself along to the front door in my home
